Course Name	Age	Time	Instructor	Location	Price Per Year	Day
Pointe II A	12-18	2:00-2:55	Amanda Stephens	LS-10	$200	Tuesday

Course Description

Intermediate level Pointe class for eligible Intermediate Ballet II and Ballet Ensemble members only. Entrance into this class is by teacher invitation only. This course is designed for the more advanced dancer who has mastered basic pointe technique and is ready to progress to more difficult steps as well as begin exploring classical repertoire. In addition to regular class attendance, it is strongly advised that students enrolled in this class seek both ballet and pointe instruction elsewhere at least two other times per week. The technical demands of this class will require students to have strong feet and legs, which can only be maintained through a regular training schedule. Thus, this class is not intended to be a student's sole form of pointe instruction each week but rather a supplement to the training a dancer is receiving elsewhere. Students may also enroll in ballet technique on Fridays.

Requirements: Dress rehearsal and Spring Ballet Showcase is required. Absences: up to 2 per semester permitted

Additional Supplies & Costs

Pointe shoes must be purchased as well as ribbon and elastic. This usually ranges from $85-$120. Because finding the right pointe shoe style and size for your feet is a complex process, it is imperative that students be fitted by a professional prior to purchasing shoes, or switching to a new style of shoe. Students enrolled in this class are responsible for setting up their own appointment with a store representative to be fitted. It is also required that each student purchase a theraband to strengthen their feet outside of class. These cost around $10 and can be found in most dance supply stores. No costume fee. This class will perform in the Spring Ballet Showcase, and will perform in class dress code unless otherwise specified by the instructor. Parents will be informed of any changes or additional details at the beginning of the Spring semester.

Acting I-B	12-18	1:00-2:30	Taffy Geisel	CMC-203	$300	Tuesday

Course Description

The class will be structured around the activities in Viola Spolin’s book, “Improvisation for the Theater” and similar style exercises. Spolin discovered that using games as the basis for training young actors results in very flexible, quick thinking, creative actors who excel at honest characterization. The games structure is ideal for young actors, as the Lord Himself designed young brains to learn through play. The exercises emphasize both individual growth and teamwork. And Theater is one of the most rewarding team sports around.

A strong emphasis will be on training the brain to think like an actor. Students will learn how to communicate emotion, state of mind, age, place, physical condition, weather conditions, and relationships.

Each class will begin with vocal and physical warm ups. Situational improvisations, monologues, and scenes will be incorporated. Skills are built in each class, so attendance in each class is vital.

There will be a showcase performance of a play in the spring semester. Check the Tafa calendar @tafa.org for the date. Participation is expected. Once scripts are given out in the spring semester, attendance in class is required.

Mathematics Placement Tests For All Math Classes

The Mathematics Placement Test should be administered and graded by the parent any time well before TAFAs registration, so that there is time to decide upon the appropriate course. The suggested proficiency level is a score of 85% or better. Scores below 85% would not necessarily preclude registration for that course, but would serve as a guide for the parent determining the student's readiness. Parents might choose to register the student for a lower level math course for which the student passes the proficiency score of 85%, or the parent might choose to register for the course initially chosen, but with the understanding that there are deficiencies in the student's math foundation that must be addressed (perhaps during the summer) in order for the student to have a higher probability of success in the higher level course. The better informed parent is better able to choose the right course.

Click on a Saxon math placement test from the list shown below to open the test. These are PDF files that you can save to your local computer or print. Each test comes complete with everything needed including all test questions and answers.

To determine readiness for Geometry:

To determine readiness for Advanced Mathematics, Algebra 1, & Algebra 2:

The levels indicated below are provided only to show the grade levels when most students typically take each Saxon Math level. It is required that your student take the Saxon math placement test to help you (the parent) determine which level is best for your child. Typically students take the higher level Saxon courses as follows:

Saxon Algebra 1 in the 8th or 9th grade
Saxon Algebra 2 in 9th or 10th grade
Saxon Geometry in 9th, 10th or 11th grade
Saxon Advanced Math in 11th or 12th grade
